

2023 SDBA Hall of Fame Nomination

Criteria: A South Dakota Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame inductee is chosen based on his/her distinguished professional career in South Dakota Broadcasting.

- The inductee has exemplified integrity, innovation, achievement, and leadership to the broadcast industry, has contributed back to the industry, and has been a positive influence on individuals within the profession and their community. The nominee may hold or have held any position within the broadcast industry.
- The inductee must have reached age 50 by the date of the annual meeting.
- The inductee must be nominated by a letter written to the SDBA Board of Directors listing the reasons for the nominee's consideration, a biography, and one additional reference letter.
- Nominees remain eligible for selection for three years, before a new nomination is required.

The Awards and Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony is held in conjunction with the Annual SDBA Leadership Conference.
